

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Media contact:
Global Compliance Services
Karen Kistenmacher
(704) 973-0355

Global Compliance Services Introduces Interactive Training Product

Charlotte, NC – March 29, 2005 – Global Compliance Services, a leading provider of loss prevention, security, safety, ethics and compliance programs for retailers today announced the introduction of an Interactive Training product. The product is available in a multitude of languages and features a broad array of off-the-shelf, retail-oriented topics, with customized topics created upon client request. Product delivery is via the Internet, but also available on CD, and includes management reports detailing both participation and comprehension.

“Retailers are continually challenged with finding the most effective and cost-efficient method of delivering training to both newly hired and tenured associates,” stated Mindy McMurry, Director of Awareness and Training for Global Compliance Services. “The self-paced, easily navigated functionality inherent within Interactive Training makes it a logical choice for retailers who have associates working a variety of shifts in geographically dispersed stores and facilities.”

Global Compliance Services has long focused on the retail industry and currently serves more than 70 major retailers. “We are extremely pleased to be adding Interactive Training to our integrated products and services portfolio, said Nick Ciancio, Vice President of Marketing and Sales for Global Compliance Services. “We currently offer the most comprehensive product and service line of any provider in our field, and this addition will allow us to accommodate another application common among retailers. This brings us that much closer to being an end-to-end solution for retailers in the areas of loss prevention, security, safety, ethics and compliance.”

About Global Compliance Services

Global Compliance Services, the industry leader in outsourced ethics and compliance solutions, empowers corporations and institutions to implement internal controls to conform to government and industry regulations and enhance their overall business performance. Our portfolio of integrated product and service offerings includes Hotline and Web Reporting, Information Management, Field Research and Awareness and Training. Founded in 1981, Global Compliance Services has unparalleled experience in ethics and compliance, having introduced the industry’s original compliance reporting hotline. Global Compliance Services provides customized solutions to corporations, universities, colleges and non-profit organizations and currently serves nearly one-half of the Fortune 100 and one-third of the Fortune 1000 corporations.